FRENCH SMASH GERMAN DRIVE

Twice Hurl Back Assaults on Recently Won Positions on Hill

DRIVE BRITISH BACK

Invaders Storm Five Hundred Yards of Trench Near Vermelles, But Hold Only a Portion

Paris, May 13—Several heavy German attacks near Fort Douaumont and Thiaumont, northeast of Verdun preceded by the most violent bombardment, were repulsed with heavy losses last night, the French line yielding not an inch, the war office announced today.

"On the west bank of the Meuse, the French gained new ground near Hill 287 (west of Hill 304)" said the official statement.

Southeast of Verdun, near Eparges a strong German reniassance was checked by the French before the Germans succeeded in reaching open ground.

Paris, May 13— Two attempts by the Germans Thursday night to recapture positions on the western slope of Dead Man Hill, taken by the French on May 10, were frustrated by the French artillery fire. Artillery is active about the Avocourt wood and the bombardment in the Douaumont-Vaux section continues, according to the official War Office report today.

Senator Berenger, writing in the Matin, says that "the key to the war lies in the possession of the Briey Valley between Verdun and Metz.

"'Since the war began,' says Senator Berenger, "France, having lost the Briey basin, has been obliged to import almost all the iron required from England and America, while Germany having occupied the whole Briey Valley, is able to add 21,000,000 tons to her own annual output. This explains the assiduty of the Germans at Verdun. They want to capture the fortress so as to effectually prevent the French from attacking Metz.

"In a confidential memorandum addressed to Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg on conditions of future peace by German industrial argicultural associations, on May 20, 1915 ,the following passage occurred: 'If the production of iron and steel had not doubled since August, 1914, the continuation of the war would have been impossible. The Briey region now produces 60 to 80 per cent .of our iron and steel, and if that production was hampered the war would be practically lost."

WON PENNANTS AT RALLY

LOCAL BREVITIES

Funeral services for Frank Riley were held this morning from Wheatley's undertaking establishment and were conducted by the Rev. E. V. Register.

Julia Page, colored, was badly bitten on the leg yesterday afternoon by a dog owned by Robert McKeown, an engineer of the Corby Baking Co. The woman was on upper Duke street extended when attacked. In police court this morning Justice Caton ordered the dog killed.

FIX CAUSE OF ACCIDENT

Experts Find Propeller Broken off Which Caused Airship Wreck at Mouth of Creek

Captain Baldwin of the Atlantic Coast Aeronautical Station, L. Deutsch, an employee of the engineering department of the Curtis Motor Co. and Aviator Vernon, made a thorough investigation of the wrecked aeroplane which fell in the river Thursday morning.

According to Mr. Deutsch who is at the Hotel Rammel, the accident was caused by the right hand propeller breaking and falling into the path of the second propeller. This caused the machine to fall at one side and there must also have been a bad "air pocket" in which the machine was located at that time the accident occurred. There is no telling what caused the propeller to break and it probably was caused by a hidden defect. The air ship was completely destroyed and after it is examined again today will be burned at Ft. Washington and the motors shipped to Newport News.

Search has been abandoned for the time being for the bodies of the two missing aviators, I. L. Crants and Charles Good. Mrs. Crants arrived here yesterday and is at the Hotel Rammel and Charles Crants, a brother of the missing man, and Mr. Green ,a cousin, arrived today. The three are from Hammondsport, N. Y. Several government boats were used in dragging the river yesterday without effect and it was decided to postpone further efforts for a week or ten days when it is expected that the bodies will rise to the surface.

M. E. CHURCH CONFERENCE

Movement to Eliminate Ban on Certain Amusements.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 13.—Members of the Methodist Episcopal Church who play cards, dance and attend the theater will no longer be liable to expulsion, if recommendations made by a subcommittee of the general conference, which has been considering the question of amusements, are adpoted by the committee on the state of the church and later by the conference. The report was offered to the main committee late yesterday and after an acrimonious discussion action was deferred until Monday.

By a vote of 10 to 8 the subcommittee recommended the elimination from the book of discipline of the clause prohibiting these amusements, and offered as a substitute an additional paragraph in which warning is made against the diversions. The effect of the proposed change is to remove the absolute prohibition, but to place the church on record as still strongly opposed to these forms of amusement. A minority report was submitted advising the retention of the paragraph as it now stands.

The delegates to the conference were brought to a high pitch of excitement yesterday by a proposal, submitted in the report of the commission on social service, which is designed to place the church on record as indorsing the preferential shop, which, it was charged, will lead later to the closed shop.

If this is adopted, according to delegates who spoke in opposition, it will place the church in the position of specifically indorsing the methods of labor unions, and will result in the abolishment of the "open shop" system in the publishing plants of the Methodist Book Concern in Cincinnati and Chicago. Although technically "open," the plant at New York city now employs only union labor.

PROGRESSIVES ATTACK WILSON

Twenty-Four Delegates to National Gathering Selected

GIVEN INSTRUCTIONS

Roosevelt is Lauded in Speech By State Chairman Percy S Stephenson of Norfolk

Roanoke, May 13.—Selection of 24 delegates, with half a vote each, to the Chicago convention on June 7, instructed for Theodore Roosevelt, and a severe criticism by speakers of the alleged "maladministration of the Democratic party," featured yesterday's State Progressive party convention here. A resolution severely arraigning Democratic activities in Virginia was adopted unanimously.

State Chairman Percy S. Stephenson, of Norfolk, opened the convention at noon yesterday. G. N. Wise of Newport News, was made temporary chairman, and L. S. Thomas of Martinsville, was chosen permanent chairman.

In a speech criticizing the Republican and Democratic parties. Mr. Stephenson said: "Theodore Roosevelt stands out as a true American, a man among men. It has not been necessary to repeal legislation enacted during his incumbency of seven years and a half. During his administration not an American rifle was fired, and within that time he triumphed by diplomacy in handling successfully seven difficult internatio nsituations. He is a man of peace, who not only advocates a square deal for every man, but national and international justice as well."

"Mr. Wilson," said Mr. Wise, "reminds me of the Duke of York, who marched his men up the hill and back again; and the Secretary of the Navy has a policy which is 'Nobody shall known what I'm going to do next.'"

Following the adoption of resolutions of respect to the memory of Thomas Lee Moore former State Chairman in Virginia, the convention adjourned.

The following delegates and alternates to the national convention were elected: At large—Percy S. Stephson, Second District: L. S. Thomas, Fifth District: E. J. McCullough, Tenth District; John H. Catron, Ninth District.

First District—George A. Walker, and George N. Wise, delegates; Henry Warden and J. W. Hester, alternates.

Second District—Paul C. Trugien and John R. Doles, delegates; George C. Tonkin and George R. Barton, alternates.

Third District—Jeff H. Powell and O. H. Russell, delegates; John L. Grubbs and George G. Rourke, alternates.

Fourth District—George Richardson and Wise Worrell, delegates; H. E. Ferguson and George B. Jones, alternates.

Fifth District—F. C. Foote and C. T. Barksdale, delegates; William M. Peyton and C. W. Jones, alternates.

Sixth District R. R. Fairfax and Van Ness Meermance, delegates; W. H. Masincup and J. E. Boehm, alternates.

Seventh District—W. S. French and D. B. Murphy, delegates; William B. Dutrow and J. W. Lovegrave alternates.

Eighth District—S. D. Scott, delegate; no alternate.

Ninth District—George W. Blankenship and John L. Ross delegates; Marian Smith and H. T. Einstein, alternates.

Tenth District—McClung Patten, C. N. Cohron and H. E. Haden, delegates,; Charles Curry, Alvin Cohron and O. D. Masters, alternates.

FOR BRITAIN ON APPAM.

Prize Ship Not Covered By Prussian Treaty, Lansing Wrote.

Norfolk, Va., May 13. —British owners of the German prize ship Appam began their effort to recover possession of the vessel in the Federal Court here yesterday with the submission of a letter from Secretary Lansing to the German Ambassador at Washington, expressing the opinion that the Appam did not fall under the protecting clauses of the Prussian-American treaty.

The Secretary's letter, holding to a view opposite to that which it had been understood was entertained by the State Department, was admitted in evidence by Judge Waddill over the protest of attorneys for the German Government and Lieut. Hans Berg, the prize commander, joint defendants in the owner's libel suit. Preliminary briefs have indicated that the German case would be built largely upon the treaty provision refered to in the letter.

Three officers of the Appam's British crew, her master, first officer and chief engineer, testified as to the ship's position when captured by the raider Moewe, the placing of bombs about the ship by the prize crew to prevent mutiny and the removal of bullion from her cargo.

Counsel for the libelants secured admission as evidence, over protest, of section 110 and 111 of the German prize code, which it is contended deny the right of German prizes to take refuge in neutral ports under such circumstances as existed in the Appam case, The Appam's certificate of British registry also was introduced and accepted over an objection. Sparring over legal intricacies occupied a good part of yesterday.

Secretary Lansing in the letter incorporated in the trial record made the point that the Appam came into Hampton Roads, not in custody of a German warship, but purely as a merchant prize, and alone. The Prussian-American treaty, he held, extended protection to a prize only when conveyed into port by a war vessel. It was pointed out, however, that this was a legal question that should be passed upon by the court, and the letter was introduced, attorneys said, as evidence in the nature of expert testimony.

It was understood that the German Ambassador's reply sharply combating the position of Secretary Lansing which never has been made public, would be submitted to the court later by the German counsel and that a rejoinder from the Secretary might also be put in evidence.

The Appam's position when captured was stated by her officers to have been about 100 miles from the point given by Lieut. Berg. The owners say she was about 1,500 miles nearer Emden than Norfolk, and that her captors were bound by international law to take her into the German port rather than across the Aaltntic.

Washington, May 13.—The German Government claims possession of the Appam under Article 19 of the treaty of 1799, which provides that the vessels of war, public and private, of both Germany and the United States shall have free entry and departure with their prizes from ports of both countries.

The contest arises over the fact that the Appam was not brought into Hampton Roads by a German warship, but came wholly unaccompanied, purely a merchant prize and alone. The treaty makes no specific provision for a prize which comes alone, and deals only with those brought by warships. The Appam, however, had a German prize crew aboard, and these complications are to be decided by the courts. Ultimately the case probably will end in the Supreme Court of the United States.

The British owners of the Appam seek to recover her by libel proceedings.

SENATOR MARTIN OUT FOR JAMES

Will Support Danville Publisher for National Committeeman from Va.

STUART IS FOR GLASS

Governor Agrees to Nominate Lynchburg Representative —Senator Martin and Glass Give out Statement

Among the names being mentioned for the position of temporary chairman of the Roanoke convention is that of Congressman Charles C. Carlin, of Alexandria, who has for years been recognized as one of the most able politicians in the State.

Washington, May 13.—The split between Senator Thomas S. Martin and Representative Carter Glass of Virginia, over the question of who shall be elected National Democratic Committeeman from the State at the Roanoke convention on June 2, rumors of which have been in circulation for several days, became a matter of general knowledge today when the two men issued statements, the Senator saying he intends to support, Col. Rorer A. James, of Danville, and not Mr. Glass. Representative Glass, in his statement, charged that Senator Martin had voluntarily promised to support him. Senator Martin inferentially says he made no unconditional promise to support Mr. Glass.

The Martin-Ghass row has got the whole State of Virginia by the ear.

It has excited more than usual interest because the two men, who are leaders of opposing factions in Virginia, had about two months ago patched up their difficulties and had indicated that they would try to bring about Democratic harmony and unity. Everything was moving along smoothy until Col. James, an intimate political friend of Senator Martin, announced his determination to seek election as national committeeman, About three weeks prior to this announcement Mr. Glass, at the solicitation of Representative Flood, Hay, Holland and Watson, and, he claims, at the suggestion of Senator Martin also, stated that he would consent to stand for national committeeman.

Mr. Glass, in his statement regarding Senator Martin's reported promise of support, said:

"Senator Martin made no reservation whatsoever when he voluntarily proffered in his support for a position for which I was not, and am not now, a candidate in the sense that I would ask anybody to vote for me. It is insulting to me to suggest that I would quietly submit to the affront of receiving from anybody an offer of support for a place that nobody else would have, and I would imagine that Senator Martin will not relish being placed in the attitude of having proposed such an indignity.

"I did not ask Senator Martin's support nor that of anybody else, nor shall I do so. His cordial support was voluntarily tendered me by Senator Martin in most friendly fashion without reservation of any sort, as may readily be ascertained by asking Senator Martin himself. The only suggestion of any reservation came from me, when I frankly said I would not desire to enter a contest for such a place, whereupon Senator Martin promptly and earnestly undertook to ressure me on this point by saying he felt certain I need apprehend no opposition from his friends."

Senator Martin, in his statement, comes out flatly for Col. James for national committeeman. The statement follows:

"I have read the paper purporting to be an interview to be published from Mr. Glass in relation to the contest between himself and Mr. James. I see no reason whatever for entering into a newspaper discussion of this matter. My only purpose in taking any part in connection with it was my desire to have as much harmony as possible in Virginia politics. Contrary to my wishes a contest very soon developed. In that contest, suffice it to say, I am supporting Mr. Rorer James, of Danville for the vacancy on the National Democratic Committee."

Governor Henry C. Stuart has agreed to place the name of Congressman Carter Glass before the State Democratic convention, at Roanoke, for the honor of national committeeman from Virginia.

Congressman Edward W. Saunders of Franklin, has agreed to perform a similar service for Col. Rorer A. James, of Danville, who is also a candidate for the same honor.

Such is the report current in political circles, and it is being confirmed by the friends of the two gentlemen aspiring to the position which has been held for so many years by J. Taylor Ellyson.

WALK OUT AGAIN

Employees of Washington and Old Dominion Railway on Strike

Employes of the Washington and Old Dominion Railway walked out on another strike at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, following the refusal of officials of the company to meet the demands of the carmen's ultimatum for redress of grievances.

The railway line is paralyzed, not a single car having made a run since the strike became effective.

The 300 employes of the company —all of them organized—are determined not to return to work until substantial concessions have been made.

Officials of the company, on the other hand, regarding the action of the carmen as a breach of the contract drawn up at the end of the strike early in April are fully as determined not to yield an inch.

With this deadlock paralyzing the railway system, the 10,000 residents of Virginia who patronize the line daily will be compelled to walk or use automobiles or wagons.

By a vote of 44 to 21 the carmen, at a meeting last night in Georgetown, decided to continue the strike and to fight the company until substantial concessions have definitely been granted. Announcement of the vote was greeted with shouts and cheers.

"By declaring a strike while arbitration was in progress ,the employes of the Washington and Old Dominion Company have violated an agreement, and unless they go back to work the American Federation of Labor, Rezin Orr, who organized their union, and I personally will wash our hands of them and the whole affair."

This statement was made today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor when asked if he had been consulted by the employes or company officials regarding the strike.

Notwithstanding this statement by the president of the federation, officials of the carmen's union said they intended to remain on strike until the company had signed the proposed working agreement or give up a definite, binding and specific contract.

ROOT RELIES ON G. O. P. IN STATE

Seven Others in the South, He Expects, Will Support Him

FRIENDS OPTIMISTIC

Statement Given Out by Former Senator's Publicity Bureau Sees Hopeful Drift

Washington, D. C., May 13—The Elihu Root Presidential Publicity Bureau in a statement last night claims that the former New York Senator will receive the votes of Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia, Arkansas and Florida on the first ballot at the Chicago National Convention. This claim, it is stated, is based upon confidential reports the Root managers have received from the Southern States.

The Root statement is clearly a bid for Southern support. It says in part:

"A careful perusal of the list of delegates for the Republican National Convention that meets in Chicago June 7 so far reveals the fact that the South will have the strongest delegation at any Republican National Convention in the history of the party. The list shows that lawyers, doctors, business men, manufacturers and farmers are among those who will represent the South at the convention. With the 200 or more votes the South will contribute towards the nomination, it will hold the balance of power in the convention. Party managers are gratified with the character of the delegates and maintain that it indicates a drift to the Republican party from a substantial element in the South. Particularly this is true of Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama, Georgia and Louisiana.

"In North Carolina there is a good chance for the election of three members of the House and a fighting chance for the electoral vote. The manufacturer of the State are strongly leaning to the Republican party. Mr. Root, when he was Secretary of War, recommended liberal river and harbor improvements for the South, realizing the great future of the South. When he was Senator, he cooperated with Southern Senators to secure legislation that was beneficial to that section."

NO PEACE PROPOSALS

Lord Robert Cecil, However, Says There is Truth in Stories from Germany

London May 13—" The latest peace overtures said to be of German origin while not as insolent and impossible as previous statements on the same subject, certainly do not yet offer a basis for negotiations," said Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, in discussing with the Associated Press the latest reputed German peace terms. Lord Robert continued:

"We have never received, either officially or unofficially, any direct peace suggestions from Germany, and the only indirect overtures we are aware of appear in the speeches of and the recent German note to America. We would not think of discussing or even considering any overtures without consulting our allies. No formal or informal conference for this purpose ever has taken place.

"In diplomatic procedure a neutral is hardly likely to make any suggestions of peace terms unless certain they are acceptable to the recipient.

"If Germany should decide to approach us through the medium of the United States the latter would have to use its own judgement as to whether or not to deliver the request"

While disclaiming any knowledge of the internal condition of Germany Lord Robert declared that the increasing reports of peace overtures indicate there is some truth to the stories that the central powers are in desperate straits.

PLAIN QUESTIONS TO ALEXANDRIA PEOPLE.

Every Alexandria Reader Will Admit The Soundness of the Logic

Would Alexandria people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they do if the medicine were not reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years have elapsed if their experiences did not show the remedy to be deserving of it? Statements like the following must carry conviction to the mind of every reader

Mrs. G. W. Davis, 107 Prince St., Alexandria, says: "Doctors treated me for a long while and pronounced my case of kidney trouble a severe one. Often I felt so listless and nervous that I almost gave up hope. I endured tortures from the complaint. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief after everything else had proven of no value. They strengthened me and removed the trouble from the kidney secretions." (Statement given in March, 1912.)

On April 9, 1916 Mrs. Davis added: "I still taken Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally when my kidneys don't act as they should and I get instant relief."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Davis has twice publicly recommended. Foster - Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Salvation Arm yhas made elaborate plans for tomorrow, the program being as follows: 10 a. m. city jail; 11 a. m. open air meeting, Queen and Pitt streets; 2:30 p. m. junior meeting Army hall; 4 p. m. open air meeting, corner King and Washington; 7:30 p. m. open air meeting corner Royal and King; 8 p. m. grand salvation rally, Army hall. These meetings will be in charge of Ensign Coleman.

Hurst and Howard Lindsay, brothers, 12 and 9 years old, were drowned late yesterday afternoon in a pond near their home, in the outskirts of Roanoke, where the two had gone in swimming. The eldest brother lost his life trying to save the other. The bodies of the two boys were found by neighbors clasped in each other's arms.

APPLES WITH BOILED RICE.

4 apples, 2 tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, ¼ cupful of water, juice of ½ lemon, 1 heaping tablespoonful of butter.

Pare, core and quarter apples. Place in earthen baking dish in single layer. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and lemon juice. Add water and the butter divided into small pieces. Bake in slow oven, basting frequently until tender. Serve with boiled rice, using the juice in place of cream.

[Complete copy of 50 apple recipes can be obtained free by applying to the secretary of the Virginia State Horticultural society, Winchester, Va.]

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

FATE OF THE IRISH PATRIOTS.

Treason doth never prosper:
What's the reason?
Why, if it prosper,
None dare call it treason.

Fourteen leaders of the recent revolt in Ireland have already paid the penalty of their action by having been put to death by the British authorities. The cry has gone up not only in Ireland but in England also for a cessation of the slaughter. The shooting of an editor who, it is claimed, was in no way responsible for the outbreak, has sent gloom over a large portion of the Emerald Isle. These deluded sons of Erin allowed themselves to be buncoed by Germany and a degenerate British subject of prominence. His friends are attempting to show insanity in his defense, and he may escape the silken rope which he prefers to the hemp.

The case of Sir Roger Casement recalls a serious chapter in English history when Lord George Gordon instigated a movement against the Catholic Church. This misguided individual flourished about the time the American colonies concluded to throw off the yoke of Great Britain. Gordon and his band destroyed churches set re to Newgate prison attacked the Bank of England and other public buildings and for a time his mob had complete possession of the city of London. During the sway of the rioters about 430 persons were killed and wounded. This rash man after a subsequent checkered life was allowed to die peaceably in his bed, it being alleged that he was not guilty of treason.

The fate of the Irish patriots whose revolt was doomed to end in complete failure recalls to mind the temerity of our forefathers who gathered in Philadelphia July 4, 1776, and placed their names to the declaration of Independence. School children and thoughtless adults fail to realize the great risks taken by the fathers of the republic. While they were wielding the quill the shadow of the gibbet was hovering over each. But, in their case, treason prospered; hence none dare call it treason.

The wrong under which Ireland has groaned runs back into the centuries. While technically her great men who have at times attempted to bring about more satisfactory conditions in that country are termed traitors, they are in reality no more guilty of treason than were the former British subects who declared the American colonies free and independent. The revolters proclaimed an Irish republic, but it was doomed to die aborning. In time a more vigorous offspring may be brought to the birth.

PARLEYING WITH RAIDERS.

The Baltimore Sun in commenting upon the Mexican situation advises patience upon the part of the United States.

We believe in patience in nations as well as in individuals, but what more can be done on this line by the United States in regard to Mexico is difficult to understand. American citizens have been massacreed and our towns raided, and, so far, conditions show no improvement. Mexican bandits, if not in the majority, in the land of the Montezumas, defy the authorities of their own country and make mirth at the expense of the United States Some are disposed to question the sincerity of Carranza, while others prefer to believe he is acting in concert with the United States. The fact remains, however, that the situation is still acute and as chronic as in the days of Huerta. While this revolutionist occupied the executive chair an American boat was fired upon in the harbor of Vera Cruz, and the demands that the act be disavowed and the flag saluted has never been compiled with,

The people of the United States have long since become weary of reading handbill headlines in the newspapers telling of unsatisfactory negotiations with Mexico. The time has come when this land of revolts should be made to keep order upon the American continent. There is but one way to accomplish this great desideratum and that is to use the big stick and bind her over to keep the peace.

Several years ago when Huerta had impudently announced to the world that he had overthrown the government of Madero, who had been murdered, and after a boat from an American man-of-war had been fired upon, the Gazette believed that the United States should have intervened and and so expressed itself. As time goes on we are more convinced than ever that eventually the United States will be forced to do what it should have done at that time.

A GENERAL ALLIED OFFENSIVE.

News comes from Vienna of the prospective inauguration by the Russians of a new and formidable drive into Galicia ,which was successfully invaded by the Russians early in the war. The Vienna report relates that the Russian forces are massed on the Galicia frontier and that they are showing increased activity. It will be recalled that the Russians early in the struggle over-ran Galicia and swept irresistibly southeastward until they reached the Carpathian mountains. There the Austrians, supplemented by Germans, turned their flank and forced them steadily backward until they lost Prezmsyl, and all the Galician cities captured in their advance. To make matters, worse, the Russians ran short of ammunition and were hammered steadily backward by von Hindenburg and von Mackensen until Poland was overrun and the heart of Russia was menanced.

The Danville Register suggests that there is reason to anticipate that the Russians are now supplied not only with an ample force of seasoned troops, but that they have an abundance of artillery and plenty of ammunition for a sustained offensive. While the precise purpose of the propective new offensive is not disclosed there is reason to believe that the Russians are determined to attempt another formidable invasion of Galicia, presumably with forces sufficient to hold the ground they may gain.

Simultaneous with the Vienna forecast of another Russian offensive on the Galician front comes news from the Austrian capital that the Italians have renewed their offensive in Gorizia. These developments in the east together with the steady and patient massing and distribution along the western front of formidable forces of British and French, supplemented by Russians indicates the approach of the great general allied offensive from every quarter in which we believe the allies are co-operating. Such a general offensive after careful and deliberate preparation cannot fail to subject the German defensive power to the severest test which has yet been applied. It will mean the turning-point of the entire war, we confidently believe.

"MOTHER'S DAY"

(Communicated)

Much has been written and much has been said along sentimental lines about "mother." Someone has said, "God could not be everywhere, so he gave us Mothers." There is a mighty power in a mother's hand and there is a mighty power in a mother's kiss—inspiration, courage, hope, ambition. One kiss made Benjamin West a painter—the memory of which clung to him through life. And there is a power in a Mother's song too, its the sweetest music in all the world.

We thank God some of us have, and have had, good old-fashioned mothers whose white and may-be jewelled hands, have felt the clasp of her baby's fingers—a dear old fashioned, sweet-voiced mother, with eyes in which the love light shows, and whose brown hair, threaded with silver, lies smooth upon her faded cheeks, but with a heart as full of love as when she cradled her baby child, though the winters of seventy or eighty years have sifted their snows over her venerable head, those dear hands, worn with toil, that gently guided our foot-steps in childhood and smoothed our pillows in sickness, ever reaching out to us in yearning tenderness, when her sweet spirit was baptized in the pearly spray of the river. How blessed is the memory of an old-fashioned Mother! We can feel the magic touch of mothers love, what an inspiration to us in mother's love! How noble, pure and tender; it a truly "a flame enkindled from above to bless our hearts and lives." Youth fades. love droops, and the leaves of friendship fall—but a mother's love; A mother's secret outlives them all." and is an inspiration and benediction to us through all the vicissitudes of life. It floats to us from the long ago, like the beautiful perfume of some woodland blossom, and remains like the perfume of dried roses, and lingers like the strains of sweet melody—how precious their memory. A mother's love never dies, but lives on in the heart and lives of her children.

The music of other voices may be lost—but the enchanting memory of her's will ever remain, and will echo in our souls forever. Other faces will fade away and be forgotten, but her's will shine on until the light from heaven's portals shall glorify our own.

When in the fitful pauses of busy life; cares, and responsibilities, our feet wander back to the old home, humble though it be, 'cross the well-worn threshold and stand once more in the old quaint room, hallowed by her presence—how the feelings of childish innocence and dependence comes over us—and we kneel down in the sunshine streaming through the window, just where long years ago, we knelt and lisped "Our Father," and how many times when the tempter lured us on, has the memory of those sacred hours, that mother's words, her faith and praying saved us from sin—and saved our characters and lives!

Years have passed and filled great drifts over, between her and us, but they have not hidden from our sight the pure unselfish love. Oh, for a consecrated Christian Motherhood!

"A mother is a mother still—the holiest thing alive!" 'S. B. W'.

THE MOTIVE FOR PEACE.

(Baltimore American)

From sources that bear the marks of authenticity comes the story of the speech made by the German chancellor at the secret sitting of the General Committee of the Reichstag. In this speech Bethmann-Hollweg is said to have told his asociates that a breech with the United Statees was a real peril to Germany; that it would give comfort to the foes of the empire and that sentimental considerations and irritation over the tone of the American note must be laid aside for the end of utility—for Germany must do everything to win the war.

The Chancellor told the members of the committee that the submarines could not effect their purpose of starving out England and that in case the United States became involved in the war other neutral powers would likely come in also. Such were some of the practical considerations. As for the last—there is not a shadow of a doubt but that the A. B. C. South American powers would have insisted upon placing their resources at the disposal of the United States in case of need. Some of the European neutrals would likewise have joined the United States upon the issue bf humanity and neutral rights.

So it appears that the inducements for making the concessions that were made were not good will to this country, not a sense of obligation to humanity, but a weighing of German utility. The Chancellor pointed to the reservation of right to alter its attitude that Germany has made. This may prove a fatal omision for Germany as it will rob it of the consideration, otherwise its right to ask from this country when it will need its good offices most. For the reservation takes from the concessions every element of frank consent.

EFFICIENCY.

(Baltimore Sun)

The German Bluebeard who disposed of six or seven of his ten murdered wives by putting their bodies into hermetically sealed cans in his workshop illustrated even in that grim business the spirit of German efficiency and thoroughness. The cans presented the appearances of gasoline containers, and the work of the German agitator probably never would have been brought to light had he not been called off by the war to another task of frightfulness. During his absence his landlord entered the house, which was vacant, and made the discovery.

The ingenuity, skill and care displayed by this German husband deserve the highest praise and would have awakened the admiration of De Quincy, Compared with this master workman the criminals described in his "Murder As a Fine Art" were mere prentice hands, Other nations have their Bluebeards, but they are bunglers at the game when measured by the scientific coolness and preparedness of the Teuton craftsman. What can the world achieve against a nation whose very criminals develop so abnormal an intellectuality and sagacity?

NEWS OF THE DAY

A dispatch from Granada, Spain, says that a revolution has broken out in Lisbon. It is reported that troops have mutinied and that the arsenals have been burned.

The German naval and military forces are preparing for a combined land and sea attack against the Russian port of Riga, according to report current here today.

A Central News dispatch from Amsterdam says that Capt. Karl Boy-Ed, formerly German naval attache, Washington, has been decorated with the Order of the Red Eagle, third class, with swords, by the emperor.

Yesterday passed at the Agricultural Department without any sign of the "bomb" thrower, who threatened in letters to papers earlier in the week to work destruction here "on Friday," A special guard was thrown about the threatened building during the past few days and will remain on duty for some while.

While playing with two other children near the curb at 21st and I Streets northwest, Washington yesterday afternoon, little 5 year old Eddie Rogenmoser, was run down and crushed by a two-ton auto truck of the Standard Engineer Company. He was removed to Emergency Hospital in a passing laundry automobile and died an hour later.

Declaring he had been driven insane by the duplicity of a married vampire, who posed as a widow, Chas. Edward Beck, of Chicago a retired business man, the father of four grown children, murdered the woman yesterday and then killed himself. The victim was Mrs. May Hogan, 30 years old, wife of Leo. J. Hogan, a machinist.

Standing before a mirrow in his room at the Hotel Junker, in Baltimore last night, John F. Yingling, 50 years old, who formerly kept a saloon and restaurant at Baltimore and Schroeder streets, committed suicide by firing a bullet into his heart. According to letters that Yingling left, the cause of his suicide was domestic troubles. Yingling came from Canton, Ill., several weeks ago.

Pancho Villa was shot by the youthful brother of a girl whon he attempted to attack, according to the latest version of the wounding of the bandit. A former Villista officer told the story at the American headquarters yesterday, asserting the details came from the girl's family and neighbors. The boy was beaten to death by Villa's men at the bandit leader's curt command to "kill him."

The overturning of the Peking government appears imminent. The financial debacle has rendered the position of Yuan Shi Kai desperate. In Canton almost continuous sessions of the rebel government are being held. Canton has been proclaimed the rebel capital. Fresh outbraks are reported to have occurred at Tsinanfu, where dangerous attacks on resident Japanese occurred recently.

The situation growing out of the differences between Dominican factions at Santo Domingo, continues critical. Yesterday Rear Admiral Caperton, commanding the American forces, visited the American legation and discussed with the officials there what action should be taken. The banks are closed. The United States gunboat Dolphin and a torpedoboat have arrived in port.

A. Tankersley, engineer of the Southern Railway's, New York-New Orleans limited, which, on the night of November 24, 1915, ran into the rear of and killed two passengers aboard a special [illegible]

Charlotte to Richmond was found guilty of manslaughter yesterday in superior court at Salisbury, N. C., The jury recommended mercy. Clyde Wilson, flagman of the special was acquitted of a similar charge.

The President and Mrs. Wilson left Washington yesterday afternoon on the yacht Mayflower for a brief vacation trip down the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay. They will probably return in time for the President's engagement Monday morning. This is the first time in several weeks the President has found the Mexican and German situations sufficiently relaxed to permit of his leaving Washington.

While preparations were being made in Crete, W. Va., for the funeral of Chapman Bradshaw the supposed dead man walked into the house. A man was killed on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad tracks east of Branchland and, although the body was so badly mutilated as to be unrecognizable, the body was identified by Hiram Bradshaw, father of the young man, and prepared for burial.

Fist fights between teachers and pupils, resulting in bloody noses and blackened eyes occurred yesterday at the Erasmus Hall High School in Brooklyn. The riot, in which nearly 1,000 boys participated, began when the pupils were locked in the school grounds at the noon recess to force them to patronize the school lunch room. The revolt was led by Horace Greeley, 3d., grandson of the famous Greeley.

It is reported in Berlin, that one of the regiments in the barracks at Piazenza, northern Italy, mutinied recently and that a brigade from Sassari, Sardinia, mutinied on the front. Further advices to the newspaper declare that in Naples manifestations occurred against King Victor Emmanuel and that a picture of the war agitator Cicotti was burned. Also that during an election in the district represented by the socialist deputy, Ferri, 6,000 women took part in a public demonstration shouting, "We want the war to end." Order was restored by the military.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Word was received Thursday night in Huntington, W. Va., from Williamson that John Raines, who was being conveyed to the State asylum at Spencer by Deputy Sheriff James Slater, had leaped from the window of a train a few miles west of Williamson and evaded capture. He apparently was uninjured and made his way to Tug river, which he attempted to cross, and was drowned. He had been violently insane for several days.

Reports made public in Richmond show that the sale of domestic cigarettes—principally by the four tobacco companies with factories in that city—amounted to 1,484,000,000 (cigarettes not dollars) more during the first quarter of the year than for the corresponding period of last year, this increase— 41.8 per cent.—being the most phenomenal in the history of the tobacco business in the United States. The total of domestic cigarettes sold in 1915 is put at 18,000,000,000 this number being about 2,000,000,000 ahead of the output during 1914. If the increase continues, and there are indications that it will, the total number of domestic cigarettes sold this year—largely "Richmond made"—will exceed last year's output by 1,000,000,000.

The cornerstone of a $100,000 auditorium was laid at the anniversary exercises of Hampton Normal Institute at Newport News Thursday as a monument to the late Robert C. Ogden, Hundreds of people from the larger cities of the East attended the exercises. Speeches were made by Governor H. C. Stuart, of Virginia; Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia; P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, and R. R. Moton, colored, new principal of Tuskegee Institute.

A SYMBOL OF HEALTH

The Pythagorians of Ancient Greece ate simple food, practiced temperance and purity. As a badge they used the five pointed star which they regarded as a symbol of health. A red five pointed star appears on each package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and still fulfils its ancient mission as a symbol of health. If you are troubled with indigestion, biliousness or constipation, get a package of these tablets from your druggist. You will be surprised at the quick relief which they afford. Obtainable everywhere.
